NOVEMBER, 1917

NUMBER TWO

Published monthly by the students of Lehigh University. Subscription, two dollars, or one dollar and fifty cents if paid before December 1st.; single copies, twenty cents. All business communications should be sent to P. C. Cameron, Phi Delta Theta House, South Bethlehem, Pa. Entered at the Bethlehem Post Office as second class mail matter.

EDITORIALS

So this is the Contributor's Number! It was with some misgivings that Burro decided to have a contributor's number. He was afraid that it might be such a wonderful success that his subscribers would want a Contributor's Number every issue. He always believed that he had a pretty good board of editors but when it comes to having the whole college for a board of editors—well, you never can tell what might happen. Some Mark Twain might suddenly get awake and make our own dear editors feel like Horatio Alger. But Burro decided to take a chance, so here it is.

Lest We Forget

"It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us; that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

The Quality of Mercy

Never before has it been the opportunity of a nation to give so fully as the American nation is now doing. Called upon for life-blood, for food, for money; in the process of being stripped of every luxury; demands for more surge about us in such rapid succession that we wonder how there can be more left.

The college student—the one who has persisted in his studies—has been comparatively exempt from these surging demands. Now a call comes.

Thru the medium of the Y. M. C. A., the Students' Friendship War Fund is to be raised. This fund is for the purpose of relieving the strain on the prisoners of war. Will you help this good cause? What the war prisoner will appreciate is that you have given up your luxuries to help him. You may feel that you are doing your duty by finishing your scholastic career but with it all you are having a better time than any of the men behind the men behind the guns. Can't you give up a tithe of it? How much are you going to sacrifice?

The Penn State Trip.

Are you going? What! Don't you know where? Get in college! Aren't you going to State College to see our team trim State? Why, yes, there is to be a Lehigh cheering section, organized rooting, and lots of pep. More than fifty Lehigh rooters are expected to be at the game. How can you stay away? You didn't know anything about it? Haven't you been reading the Brown and White? Haven't you seen the notices on the Bulletin Boards? Where have you been? Get in college! Say—and don't forget that a victory over State will pave the way toward a victory over Lafayette and that you can help bring both about!

Knowledge

"To search thro' all and reach the law within the law."

How we mortals deceive ourselves when we say that we Know! What do we know? The simplest, most apparent, most obvious facts, have to be explained by the most extravagant of theories. Life begins for us individually but how did it begin collectively? The earth goes hurtling about the sun, but why? And whence these vast stories of energy? Our limited visions enable us to see myriads of stars and thru infinite space, but beyond that what? The law of inverse squares applies to light, sound, heat, and magnetism, but how and why? All falling bodies pursue a course straight toward the center of the earth, but why? Who says he Knows is dunce.

Burro desires to thank all those who aided in making the Contributor's Number a success. Such an avalanche of contributions came our way that we have been in a quandary as to which to use and which to discard. All the material was good. There is no doubt as to the quality of the issue which you have produced. It is the best Burro thanks you, whether professed or anonymous, for your efforts.

Apologies

To L. F. Knight '18. Burro failed to include his name among those who have left the University and the Burr Board for national service.

A Terrible Blow.

"Whose the fat fellow just coming in?"
 "That's Tubleigh who brags continuously about being a self-made man."
 "Great Scott! He looks more like he was built by a construction company."

Soph—"What's all the hurry, frosh?"
 Frosh—"Our chemistry Prof, is overcome with gas."
 Soph—"Going for a doctor?"
 Frosh—"No, more gas."

The prisoner had his back to the wall. The firing squad was ready. The officer asked if the prisoner had anything to say. The prisoner laughed sardonically. "Do your worst" he cried, "I wear Paris garters! No metal can touch me."

Hut—"You're more of an historical scholar than I thought. How did you know Media and Carthage were dead nations?"

But—"Well, I hadn't seen anything in the papers about there declaring war on Germany."

Flivvers rush in where Packards fear to tread.

You can feed a student Grape-nuts but you cannot make him think.

Professor calls the roll. Wilkins does not answer. "Oh, yes, he was the man who was coming last year and didn't. He's coming this year and hasn't."

She—"I love the ocean."
 He—"Yes, it's so tidy."

He—"I'm going to be so wicked that you'll be afraid of me."
 She (coily):—"I never fear wicked people; I envy them."

"Fine roads they have in New Jersey."
 "Yes, the only two trips I made cost me $6.25 and $10.75 respectively."

"Yes, mum, there was four pounds of veal here, but the cat ate it up."
 Mistress (puts the cat on the scales. Finds that it weighs just four pounds.) "Yes, Bridget, you are right. There is the meat, but Bridget, where is the cat?"

Latest War Bulletin

London has admitted that there is more to this submarine warfare than appears on the surface.

It's nice to go to classes
 And learn to use your head
 But on these frosty mornings
 I'd rather stay in bed.

English Prof.—"So you read the work? And how did you like it?"

Student—"I laid it down with intense pleasure."

"What is a cafe de luxe?"

"A 'cafe de luxe' is ten percent cafe and ninety per cent looks."

Stude: "I will not marry a woman unless she is my exact opposite."

She: "You will never find so perfect a being."

A girl, a quarrel, a room, some gas,
A hearse, a funeral, a hole, some grass.

Speaking of Poultry

I went in and hung up my hat, at the sign of the quick Automat, but a button that said: "Fresh eggs Adelaide," brought forth some on which Addie had sat!

"Professor, if I enter this business after graduation, do you think I'll have a chance to rise?"

"Certainly, my dear sir, at about five o'clock in the morning."

Things That Aren't Being Done

"Dear Dad—

Please cut down my allowance I have more than I can spend.

Your Loving Son."

"Sure old man; are you sure fifty is enough?"

"Well, Prof., if you don't like the way I'm doing it you can do it yourself."

"See here, Mrs. Jones, I came to see your daughter, not you. So beat it!"

"He is slow but sure."

"Yes, slow to learn and sure to forget!"

Little we think,
Less we do—
Isn't it funny
How we pull thru?

"Didn't know you were out for football!"
"I'm not, I take gym twice a week."

Prof.—"What time did you start studying?"
Stewed—"Quarter of eight."

Prof. goes through a little mental process
($8 \times \frac{1}{4} = 2$)—"Yes, I thought so!"

We went to school for eight long years
To learn geography;
But since this war has started
We are in great complexity.
Today some land belongs to France
The next day to the Kaiser—
If we'd forget all that we learned
We'd be so much the wiser.

He (to second "he," who is sitting on a rock in Sayre Park.)—"Hello, what are you doing?"
Second "he"—"Just admiring the beauties of nature!"

He (becoming interested)—"How many have gone by?"

Biffkins—"I hear Jinks has gone in for aviation."

Wiffkins—"Well, you know, he always did go up in the air easily."

For the benefit of new men Burro publishes the following helpful extracts from Webster.

FRESHMAN—(n) (very singular) A small green organism found in large numbers during October, but becoming considerably rarer in February. Perfectly harmless, and can be distinguished by black markings at top and bottom.

ANALYT—(n) (Meaning Vague) A poisonous mixture compounded by ruthless supermen to exterminate freshmen,—and others.

CHAPEL—(n) A state of mind, as yet uninvestigated but believed to exist sometime in the early hours of the morning.

COMMONS—(n) See Starvation.

COSECANT—(n) An expensive article subject to great wear and tear, hence often renewed, necessitating letters home.

B. S. (Bee-Ess) A title inflicted as a penalty for consuming fresh air for four years.

BROWN & WHITE—A chronicle containing small amounts of last week's news and much "other matter."

AMERICAN LIT—(m) An anesthetic.

LAFAYETTE—(m) ————— censored.

Next to Nothing

Opologies to Pope

The Civil leads a jolly life,
He's free from every care and strife
He stays in bed each day 'till nine.
I would the Civil's life were mine.

But yet his troubles too he hath;
Four dreary years he spends on math,
And heavy transits totes aloft.
The Civil's life is not so soft.

The miner better pleases me
For all the world he's bound to see.
Most any man however thick
Can easily learn to swing a pick.

And yet the miner gets his knocks;
The mountains he must comb for rocks,
He climbs around a deep, dark, mine,
The E. M.'s life is not so fine.

The Chemist's lot looks good to me
Despite the laboratory fee.
You need no brains for mixing drinks,
Or breaking glass or making stinks.

But still he has a right to crab;
He stands all day in smelly lab.
And burns his hands. No, Ch. E.
Is not what its cracked up to be.

There's too much work for me I guess,
In Ch. E. or yet B. S.
M. E., E. M., C. E., or Met.
I guess I'll go to Lafayette.

First frosh—"Did you ever feel as though the world were against you?"

Second frosh—"Yes, I slipped on the campus this morning."

Did it ever Happen to You?

A cry that always makes me rave,
And use my bitterest tone
Is, when I'm lathered for a shave—
"You're wanted on the phone!"

The Hiss

In school, we learn in Physics,
That there always is a hiss,
Whenever heated metal,
And water chance to "kiss."
I learned this rule while watching
An old-time smithy man.
I'll tell it as he told it to me
As nearly as I can.

"My boy," says he, "you're old enough,
To know what's wrong from right.
Now 'German heroes all' are they
Who may survive a fight.
I s'pose the hearts that are underneath
The Iron Cross today,
Are warm with pride that, by their deeds,
His name may live for aye.

And that same warmth keeps growin',
Till the Iron Cross they wear
Is like a piece of metal
In the fire over there."
He paused a bit—as if his thoughts
Were far across the sea,
Where he saw another picture—
And then he said to me:

"But son, there's lots of mothers,
Who, by war, are left alone,
With no one to protect them,
And no one to atone,
For all the wrong they've suffered,
Because of Mad Bill's Pride.
To him 'twas always 'Me und Gott,'
All else was put aside.

THEIR breasts aren't decorated
With any silly Cross,
But their eyes and hearts are saddened—
Blind and broken by their loss.
Fathers—Brothers—Husbands—Sweethearts.
All are gone, and who's to blame?
Who, but he who, by their sacrifice
Does magnify his fame?

So I'm thinkin' if the Kaiser,
Ever took the villain's part,
In an old-time meller-drammer,
That he wouldn't jump and start,
When he heard you little fellers—
For sech shows you never miss!
Each time he came upon the scene,
You'd shet yer teeth and hiss!

He stopped—and stood—and waited,
With his head a little bent,
A-squintin' at me, just to see
If I knew what he meant.
I'd caught on, but sat there thinkin',
Till he took a rusty shoe,
And he stuck it in the charcoal,
And then the bellows blew,

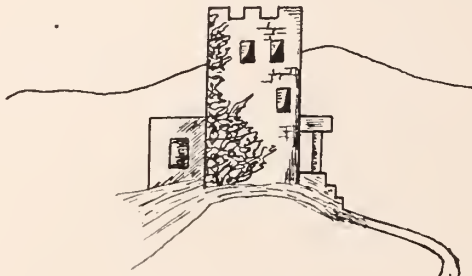

Until the shoe was glowin'
When he took his pliers down,
And grasped the heated iron
And made as if to drown
The sparklin', splutterin' metal
In his water tub—at this
There came unto my ready ears,
The oft-repeated "hiss"!

'Twas all he said, 'twas all he did,
I knew that he was through.
He KNEW I got his meaning then.
I'm SURE I did! Do YOU?

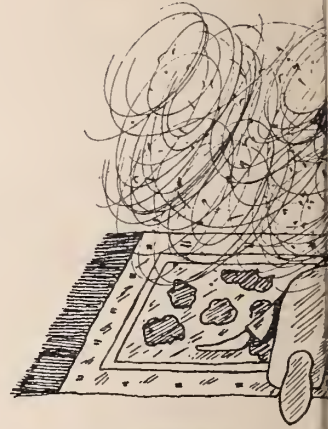

He—"I wonder if we can squeeze in that car?"
She (shocked)—"You'd better wait till we get home."

There's Music in the Heir

He, to an Allentown taxi driver.—“Hey, you, you haven't given me enough change.”

Driver—“Well, you can't expect to hire a taxi, a driver, and an expert accountant all for a quarter!”

He—“Want to go to the movies?”

She—“I'd like to, but I haven't any clothes.”

He—“Well, then, we'll go to the opera.”
(Wrapped in thought and wearing a smile, she entered the box.)

Junior, at her home—“Do you know———? That tune simply carries me away!”

She—“I don't know it, but I'll learn it before you come again.”

You may talk of the glide and the one-step
Of the whirl—or the Lord knows what!

But here's to the best of them all, boys—
To the gool old Latin trot!

I go around from class to class
It's foolish—I can't see
Why I have to go to college—
Let the college come to me!

A Freshman Contribution

We heard a chemistry student, a Soph, too, go to the supply room window and ask for a foot of “solid glass tubing!” And they go to Africa for Ivory!

Fresh, to a senior—“Hello there!”

Senior—“Hello, pistachio.”

Fresh—“What does that mean?”

Senior—“Look it up.”

Fresh (reading definition from dictionary)—
“Pistachio; a little, green nut!”

Tony—“No, me no like deesa country. Me landa job in Amerique, boss he wonta graft, poliss taka half de mon I get from de banana cart. Dey meka fun my children in de school, calla dem spagetti-eaters. No, me no like deesa country. Me go back to olda country.”

K. M. I.—“And where is that, Tony?”

Tony—“Third street.”

Oscar—“I don't think bookkeeping is a very healthy job.”

Titus—“Oh, they get enough exercise running up the columns.”

Jigg—“Say old man I want something up-to-date in the way of fawney dress for the Vegetarian ball tomorrow night.”

Ligg—“Well stick a turnip on your head and go as a meatless day.”

Where Ignorance was Bliss

"Pop," the son asked, "what's the Latin word for people?"

"Don't know," answered his father.

"Populi!" was the child's happy answer. And father's slipper demanded a penalty.

Recollection of an Alumnus

Apologies to Longfellow

That Chapel Bell, that Chapel Bell!
How many a tale that it could tell,
Of sleep and rest and good sweet wine
That has been lost through its sweet chime.

Those dreary hours have passed away,
And now my heart, both blithe and gay,
Though once in dread did really dwell,
Must answer not that Chapel Bell.

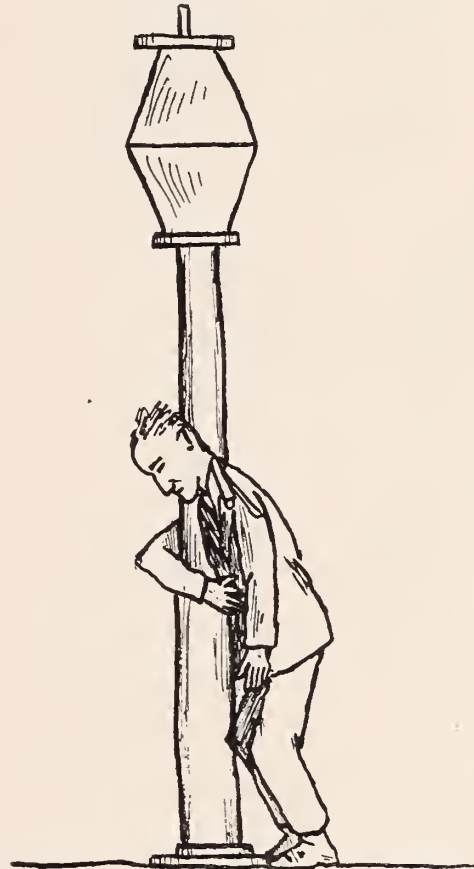

And so it is when I am gone,
That dreary bell still rings on
While other "studes can curse the day,
That "Chapel Rule" was put in play.

Sad, But True.

Frosh Reflections

Here's the Chapel, Cross-crowned tower,
Ivied walls, and tinted glass—
'Tis a wondrous inspiration—
"Hey, you Frosh, get off the grass."

As one walks along the driveways,
Oh! what views the eye can catch!
Stately buildings, tree-bound vistas—
"Oh, say, Frosh, give me a match."

Here amid these fair surroundings
I may surely knowledge glean
Of the harvests, rich and plenty—
"Little Frosh, come, show your green."

The Right Hand of Welcome

Dear Molly,

Again I take my pen in hand to write to you.

I think of you all day long. In fact, I'm beginning to realize that I can't live without you. Your wonderful form, entrancing eyes, full red lips, intoxicating smile—Oh! how I adore you.

With oodles of love,

Affectionately,

Bill

P. S.: I'll be over at 8 P. M. tonight instead of 8:30 tonight.

B.

He—"Most girls, I have found, don't appreciate real music."

Second He—"Why do you say that?"

He—"Well you may pick beautiful strains on a mandolin for an hour, and she won't even look out of the window, but just one honk of a horn and—out she comes!"

Cribbed From Vaudeville

John: "I hear you enlisted."

Henry: "Yes. Joined the National Army of American Jewelers."

John: "What on earth is that?"

Henry: "They're the boys who are going across the ocean to put a new set of works in the Watch on the Rhine."

Prison Reformer: "We are starting a library. Is there any particular book you would like to make use of?"

No. 777777: "Sure, if I could only use it right I'd like to have a railroad guide."

Irate Senior: "I told you to wake me at seven. Now it is nine and I've got two cuts. Why didn't you call me?"

Freshman, cheerfully: "I couldn't very well. I just got up myself."

Chemistry Instructor: "What are the bases, Jones?"

Jones, (thinking of the World's Series): "The bases are four in number. First base, second base, third base and home-plate."

Why Freckles are Scarce

Mother, may I go in to swim?

Yes, my darling daughter:

Take your knitting out on the pier,

But don't go near the water!

"None of us mind being economical with meat and potatoes, but who approves of the Hooverized soup dished out at the Commons."

"My Abner, ain't that nice."

"Ain't what nice?"

"The popcorn—it smells so good."

"It do smell kind o' fine," he drawled, "I'll jest drive a little closer so you can get a better smell."

An Ode

There was a Senior miner,
Who took a geology trip,
On the way he met a farmer,
And proceeded to get flip.

The farmer had a shotgun,
It let out an awful roar,
It met the Senior miner,
And now he is no more.

Now listen Senior miners,
If you ever take a trip,
Should you ere' meet a farmer
'Tis foolish to get flip.

But treat the farmer nicely,
And treat the farmer well,
For he'll treat you to some cider,
Which is hard as Haig and Haig.

"Oh, Boy" November 10th

She—"Don't take the words out of my mouth."

He—"I hav'n't been anywhere near your mouth."

She—"I wish the Lord had made me a man."

He—"He did! I'm the man."

He was a freshman, and he timidly approached the post-office window.

"How much postage will this require?" he asked. "It is my article for the Contributor's Number of the 'Burr'."

"Two cents an ounce," smiled the clerk, "it's first-class matter."

"Oh, thank you!"

Stude: "What do you think of this scheme of setting the clock back?"

Old Grad: "Nothing new about that. When I was a student the girls used to set the clock back, but it wasn't to save daylight."

A Fable

Once upon a time a Dutchman had a dog. He was a most ferocious critter. He had Red eyes that glared. He licked everything in sight.

One day, while he was burying a veal shin, a lady dog came along. She was most ordinary, but the bad dog's eyes grew less inflamed. He ended up by laying his veal shin at her feet.

Now he is a most domestic animal.

The Rules of the Game

While making the rounds of a large insane asylum, one of the inmates, a former ball player, came up to me with this query, "Ain't I off my base?"

Under the circumstances, I thought it wise perhaps to agree with him.

"Well, then," he said proudly, "if I'm off my base, why can't I get out?"

—Puck.

We Hope They Were Ripe

How many apples did Adam and Eve eat?

Some say Eve 8 and Adam 2, a total of 10; others say Eve 8 and Adam 8 also, a total of 16; but if Eve 8 and Adam 82, the total was 90. Then again, if Eve 81 and Adam 812, the total would have been 893; still, if Eve 81 1st and Adam 812, the total would have been 1623; or again, if Eve 814 Adam, then Adam 81242 oblige Eve, total 82056; though we admit that Eve 814 Adam, Adam if he 8181242 keep Eve company, total 8,182,056. All wrong. Eve, when she 81812 many, and probably felt sorry for it. Adam in order to relieve her grief 812, therefore, Adam, if he 81814240-fy Eve's depressed spirit, hence both ate 81,896,864 apples!—Exchange.

German Cop—"You're arrested for saying the emperor is a damn fool."

And a man, a goose.

"Ah, the beautiful green of everything," rhapsodized the college poet,
"What surpasses green."

"Yellow," replied the practical stude,
"That comes in larger denominations."

Two Frenchmen saw a "Kiltie" coming toward them.
